Peter was a zealous smoker. Every single friend or ^{relation} ~~related~~ of him knew it. Before he developed his addiction he used to loathe the omnipresent haze in front of every restaurant or bar but then he became closer with this weird group of barmen who work all the night and sleep all the day and spend their time in [?] ~~smothers~~ and suddenly he began to savor the choking feeling. Now almost every time you see him outside, he is dragging behind him an ^(?) ~~obscure~~ belt of poisoned air.

hidden?
not clearly seen?

Clear. Most words
used correctly...

Thanks, J -

Good.
